

Dear Parents/Guardians,

This year we will be using LiveSchool, an app that will help us share behavior feedback with you and your child. Your child will receive positive points in LiveSchool for hard work and good behavior. We will also give feedback on negative choices your child may make. By working hard on a regular basis, your child will be able to earn rewards and participate in fun events.

To learn more, please visit the following web address for a short video introduction to the service: tinyurl.com/LiveSchoolParent

We continue to be committed to student success, and we are confident that furthering the relationship between school and home will have a great impact. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact the School.

How should I use the app?

Check the app at least once a week to see your child's progress. Use the information as a conversation starter with your child about the choices he or she is making in school. Congratulate and encourage your child when they earn points and positive feedback from teachers - research shows that positive encouragement is more effective than negative feedback.

What should I do if my child is misbehaving?

If you notice a pattern of negative behavior, work with your child to set goals for better behavior in school. Consider rewarding your child at home for their progress at school. For instance, you can use the information in LiveSchool to determine their allowance or amount of computer time they are allowed to have.

How else can I get involved?

Volunteer at school to help chaperone a field trip or school dance. Consider donating items or asking local businesses to donate items to the School store. The more items in the school store, the more motivated your child will be to go above and beyond expectations at school.
